DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lee ('886).

Lee teaches the following claimed limitations as cited below:

1. A method for forming ultra shallow junctions, comprising:
providing a semiconductor (Col.11, lines: 30-37);
implanting a dopant species into said semiconductor (Col.s 11, lines: 30-40); and annealing said implanted semi-conductor with a ultra high temperature anneal comprising annealing temperatures from about 1050 to about 1350 degrees C for a period of from about 0.5
milliseconds to about 3 milliseconds (Col.11, lines: 53-58- teaching to anneal to a temperature of 1100 degrees for a time period of 1 millisecond to 5 seconds).

Art Unit: 2813

2. The method of claim 1 further comprising an amorphizing implant (Col.s 11, lines: 30-40-damaged region is amorphous in a crystalline structure and Col.6, lines: 20-30).

3. The method of claim 2 wherein said amorphizing implant comprises implanting a species from the group consisting of silicon, germanium, antimony, indium, arsenic, neon, argon, krypton, and xenon(Col.s 6, lines: 1-10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee ('886).

Lee teaches the method of claim 1, however fails to explicitly teach wherein said ultra high temperature anneal is in the range from about 1150 to about 1350 (Col.11, lines: 53-58).

However, this claim is prima facie obvious without showing that the claimed ranges achieve unexpected results relative to the prior art range. In re Woodruff, 16 USPQ2d 1935, 1937 (Fed. Cir. 1990). See also In re Huang, 40 USPQ2d 1685, 1688(Fed. Cir. 1996)(claimed ranges of a result effective variable, which do not overlap the prior art ranges, are unpatentable unless they produce a new and unexpected result which is different in kind and not merely in degree from the results of the prior art). See also In re Boesch, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA) (discovery of optimum value of result effective variable in known process is ordinarily within skill of art) and

In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955) (selection of optimum ranges within prior art general conditions is obvious).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 and 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
